

SCOUTMASTER'S MINUTE • COURAGE

Speaking Up in PLC

Any Meeting

---

It takes more courage to disagree respectfully in a room full of people than most folks realize. Tonight at PLC, a patrol leader said something unpopular — and said it anyway, calmly, because they believed it mattered. That's a braver thing than it looks like from the outside. Courage isn't always a dramatic moment on a trail. Sometimes it's just being willing to say the true thing in a quiet room.